Key Music Australia has been providing music tuition to hundreds of students for over 5 years. Recently we have seen a need for better management of School Band Programs. Many band programs struggle to find suitable music tutors and band conductors who are reliable and experienced.

As most Band Committees are parent run, they rely on the knowledge and experience of parents, most of whom are not musical and do not work in the music industry. Parent committee's are also frequently changing members so it can be difficult to plan for the future or have smooth operation from year to year. Key Music Australia solves these problems by providing experienced, professional staff to work with band committees to guide and strengthen them to help the band program function efficiently and grow from year to year.

All of our staff are screened with the Working with Children Check under the Child Protection Act and are covered by comprehensive Public Liability and Worker's Compensation Insurance, providing peace of mind for band committees.

Key Music Australia is the right choice for schools wanting to start a band program or strengthen an existing program. We will work with programs of any size.

"Key Music Australia provides the management of our entire band program. They provide all tuition and band conductors and take care of all contact with the parents about the running of the program. Their staff are very professional and friendly and are well liked by the students and parents. "

- St Kevin's School Band, Eastwood

"Having Key Music Australia running our Beginner Program has led to increased enrolments and made the music committee's job very easy"

- Mt Colah Public School Music Committee

"Key Music Australia has been providing our school with tutors for band camps and workshops as well as regular tuition. We are able to book multiple tutors at the one time which makes our job very easy"
